Harlingen to Observe National Library Week

Harlingen, Texas—The Harlingen Public Library will hold its eighth National Library Week April 2-9, and everyone is welcome to join the celebration.

Programs during the week include tie-dying, virtual storytimes featuring community leaders, crafts, and a showing of the movie “The Pagemaster.” The National Library Week Virtual Art Show will premiere on Monday, April 4, and contests and prizes will be happening at the library throughout the week. There’s something for everyone – in addition to the books!

The festivities will culminate with the National Library

Week Celebration on April 9 from 2-4 p.m. The all-ages event will feature games, prizes, live music from Grupo Americanto, and a cakewalk. The South Texas Literacy Coalition and the Harlingen Housing Authority will distribute books for kids to select and keep. Kids can enjoy a bounce house from the Boys & Girls Club, and they may even spot some dinosaurs from Jurassic RGV.

In addition, the Friends of the Library will sell raffle tickets for a chance to win a beautiful spring basket, and they will print photos on the spot. The grande finale will be the return of the Mascot Dance-Off, where the mascots dance, and the cheers from the audience decide who the winner is.
